Healing Hearts Society
Helping Families At Their Most Difficult Time

A wife who loses a husband is called a widow. A husband who loses a wife is called a widower. A child who loses his parents is called an orphan. But...there is no word for a parent who loses a child, that’s how awful the loss is. – Winston Churchill

Family Resource Network (FRN) has received numerous requests for assistance with burial expenses from families following the death of their child with special needs. FRN found that few programs exist to assist families at this most difficult time. To address this need, Family Resource Network, a 501c3 nonprofit, has formed the Healing Hearts Society. Your donation to the Healing Hearts Society will provide financial assistance to families at their most difficult time. All donations are tax deductible. At this time the Society will award grants of up to $250.

It is anticipated that requests for funds will exceed Healing Hearts Society donations. A committee will review all applications and allocate grants based on available funds. All requests for funds must be referred to FRN by local agencies. Any agency wishing to receive an application form and funding criteria should contact FRN at 209-473-3674.

Your generous donation to the Healing Hearts Society will help families begin the healing process.

Medication Management At School

If your child has a chronic illness or may need to take medication during the school day for an occasional acute illness, here are four questions to help you learn about your school’s medication management policies:

1. Is there a locked cabinet where children’s medications are stored?

2. What staff members administer medications?

3. What training have these individuals received – both in medication administration and in monitoring medication effects?

4. How are medication errors tracked? What procedures are in place for revising procedures or staff training when something seems warranted?
